DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 8/10/2006 has been entered.

Response to Arguments

2. The Applicant's arguments filed 8/10/2006 regarding Claim 1 and 9 are not persuasive. As Aucsmith discloses the receiver being associated with a plurality of keys see Abstract & Fig. 4 item 305 & 315(as it is commonly known in the art, prime numbers are readily used as key for encryption). And further, Aucsmith discloses the transmitting a messages containing keys to all receivers see Fig. 6 item 50 and only valid receivers being able to decrypt it see Fig. 3 item G & Fig. 8 item 705, 710.
3. The Applicant's arguments regarding Claim 3-5 and 11-13 are persuasive. The mentioned are addressed below.
4. In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, Aucsmith and Marino both deal with transmitters and receivers selecting transmitting/receiving messages intended for each other without compromising security, i.e. easily adaptable (multiple device keys).

5. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 5,712, 800 to Aucsmith in view of U.S. Patent 6,026,165 to Marino et al. (hereinafter Marino).
7. Regarding Claim 1, Aucsmith discloses the transmission system for providing conditional access coupled via network including an transmitter transmitting to all receivers same data encrypted under control of same key see Fig. 3 item G & Col 6 Ln 55-Col 7 Ln 14 and . And further Aucsmith discloses the receivers receiving the key block and encrypted data see Col 9 Ln 35-62. Aucsmith also discloses the first and second decryptor for decrypting data by master key and key specific to authorized devices(private key and prime number) see Fig. 6 item 515, 520, 530 & Col 10 Ln 48- Col 11 Ln 25. But, Aucsmith does not disclose the transmitter transmitting to receivers key block containing device key and some entries containing authorization key encrypted with the device key. However, Marino discloses the transmitter broadcasting to receivers key block containing device key and some entries containing authorization key encrypted with the device key see Fig. 3 item 30, Fig. 4 item (B) & Col 1 Ln 63-66 & Col 9 Ln 49-58. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the transmitter broadcasting to receivers key block containing device key and some entries containing authorization key encrypted with the device key in the invention of Aucsmith in order to have an secure system whereby only authorized and selected receiver can decrypt the messages in as taught in Marino see Col 7 Ln 57-65.

8. Regarding Claim 2, 10, 22, Aucsmith discloses the set of device keys specific to receivers being unique to the receiver see Col 12 Ln 8-24.
9. Regarding Claim 4, 12, Aucsmith discloses the re-enabling of reception of previously disabled reception by changing key and associated device keys see Col 13 Ln 30-49.

10. Regarding Claim 3, 11, Aucsmith discloses the disabling of decryptors see Col 11 Ln 26-32; and further of disabling of reception see Col 11 Ln 44-49 & Fig. 5 item 525 & replacement(renewing) and revocation of keys see Col 12 Ln 13-38.

11. Regarding Claim 6, 14, Aucsmith discloses the broadcasting in real time see Col 6 Ln 55-64.

12. Regarding Claim 7, Aucsmith does not disclose the transmitter transmitting to receivers key block containing device key and some entries containing authorization key encrypted with the device key. However, Marino discloses the transmitter broadcasting to receivers key block containing device key and some entries containing authorization key encrypted with the device key see Fig. 3 item 30, Fig. 4 item (B) & Col 1 Ln 63-66 & Col 9 Ln 49-58. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the transmitter broadcasting to receivers key block containing device key and some entries containing authorization key encrypted with the device key in the invention of Aucsmith in order to have an secure system whereby only authorized and selected receiver can decrypt the messages in as taught in Marino see Col 7 Ln 57-65.

13. Regarding Claim 8, 16, Aucsmith discloses the receiving of key block and encrypted data see Col 10 Ln 52-61 & Col 10 Ln 62-66; first and second decryptors for decrypting using master key and authorized keys specific to receivers(private key and prime) see Fig. 6 item 515, 520, 530 & Col 10 Ln 48- Col 11 Ln 25.

14. Regarding Claim 9, 15, 21, Aucsmith discloses the transmitter and plurality of receivers coupled via network see Fig. 3 item G; transmitter transmitting data encrypted under the master key and private key see Col 10 Ln 48-61; receiver for decrypting data using master key and authorized device key(private key and prime) see Fig. 6 item 515, 520, 530 & Col 10 Ln 48- Col 11 Ln 25. Aucsmith does not disclose the transmitter transmitting to receivers key block containing device key and some entries containing authorization key encrypted with the device key. However, Marino discloses the transmitter broadcasting to receivers key block containing device key and some entries containing authorization key encrypted with the device key see Fig. 3 item 30, Fig. 4 item (B) & Col 1 Ln 63-66 & Col 9 Ln 49-58. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the transmitter broadcasting to receivers key block containing device key and some entries containing authorization key encrypted with the device key in the invention of Aucsmith in order to have an secure system whereby only authorized and selected receiver can decrypt the messages in as taught in Marino see Col 7 Ln 57-65.

15. Regarding Claim 17, 19, Aucsmith discloses the key block corresponding to a subset of different device keys see Col 10 Ln 26-47.
16. Regarding Claim 18, 20, Aucsmith discloses the receivers using first decryptor and key block to retrieve authorization key see Fig. 6 item 510, 515, 530.
17. Claims 3-4, 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 5,712, 800 to Aucsmith in view of U.S. Patent 6,026,165 to Marino et al. (hereinafter Marino) and further in view of U.S. Patent 6,118,873 to Lotspiech.
18. Regarding Claim 3-4, 11-12, Aucsmith nor Marino discloses the revoking and re-enabling of keys. However, Lotspiech discloses the revoking and renewing of keys see Col 6 Ln 13-28 & Col 6 Ln 42-65. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the revoking and renewing of keys in the invention of Aucsmith in order to have versatile system.
19. Claims 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 5,712, 800 to Aucsmith in view of U.S. Patent 6,026,165 to Marino et al. (hereinafter Marino) and further in view of U.S. Patent 6,542,610 B2 to Traw et al. (hereinafter Traw).

20. Regarding Claim 23 and 24, Aucsmith nor Marino disclose the shared key between receivers. However, Traw discloses the shared key between receivers see Col 7 Ln 25-33 & Fig. 8 item 806(A, B, C) acts both receivers and transmitters). It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the shared key between receivers in the invention of Aucsmith in order to make authentication possible as taught in Traw see Col 7 Ln 16-24.

Allowable Subject Matter

21. Claims 5 and 13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
